

RICCARDO ENNIO*

vi·su·al sto·ry·tell·er (noun)

(()) : a person who conveys stories through moving and/or still images

ABOUT ME

2026

Based in Paris, I am an Italian visual storyteller who transitioned from economics to animation, shaping a path where analytical thinking meets creative expression.

My academic and professional journey has evolved alongside a longstanding passion for illustration and animation, a passion that has continuously deepened my fascination with visual storytelling. Moving first to London and then to Paris marked decisive steps toward pursuing the career I had long envisioned: one where creativity and narrative craft intertwine, enriched by the discipline and perspective gained from my previous experiences.

Today, I remain committed to this path, continually refining my artistic voice and exploring the complexities and nuances of animation as a medium for meaningful storytelling.
